

Anton Ilderton

"Open problems and challenges in strong field QED"

I will address various theoretical challenges and open problems in the area of strong field QED. This will be a more "open" session in which questions and discussion will be encouraged throughout. The aim is to identify the problems which the community feels should be prioritised, in the light of forthcoming experiments.